

I have some problem from people who complains about two different videophone and Dlink that they can't chat with each other. I think it should have them together that they can use either of them to chat with each other. Hope there will be much better technology and money, too.

Thank you, Janice